

PUBLIC INTELLECTUALS PROGRAM

The National Committee on United States-China Relations' Public Intellectuals Program is designed to nurture a new generation of China specialists who have the interest and potential to play significant roles as public intellectuals. Funded with generous grants from The Henry Luce Foundation and The Starr Foundation, the aim is to upgrade the quality of the American public's understanding of China by strengthening links among U.S. academics, policymakers, and opinion leaders. This is the third round of PIP fellows.

Through a varied set of activities, the program will help twenty young American China scholars and other specialists deepen and broaden their knowledge about China's politics, economics, and society, and encourage them to use this knowledge to inform policy and public opinion.

The multi-year enrichment opportunity is intended to complement the Fellows' primary academic or professional positions. It will include two meetings in Washington focusing on the D.C.-based China policy community; a meeting in San Francisco; trips to China as a cohort; participation in National Committee programs as scholar-escorts; and a requirement that the Fellows organize local public education programs. For more on the program, visit www.ncuscr.org/programs/pip.

2011-2013 FELLOWS

Dr. Gardner Bovington	Associate Professor and Director of Graduate Studies, Central Eurasian Studies, Indiana University at Bloomington
Dr. James Carter	Professor of History and Director, International Relations Program, Saint Joseph's University
Dr. Michael Chang	Associate Professor of Chinese History, Department of History and Art History, George Mason University
Dr. Martin Dimitrov	Assistant Professor, Department of Government, Dartmouth College
Dr. Taylor Fravel	Associate Professor, Political Science and Member, Security Studies Program, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Mr. Keith J. Hand	Associate Professor of Law, University of California Hastings College of the Law
Dr. Yinan He	Assistant Professor, Whitehead School of Diplomacy, Seton Hall University
Mr. Thomas Kellogg	Adjunct Professor of Law, Fordham University and Program Officer, Open Society Institute
Dr. Sabina Knight	Associate Professor, Chinese and Comparative Literature, Smith College
Dr. Joanna Lewis	Assistant Professor, Science Technology and International Affairs, Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University

Dr. Darrin Magee	Assistant Professor, Environmental Studies, Hobart and William Smith Colleges
Mr. Carl Minzner	Associate Professor of Law, Washington University in St. Louis, and Visiting Professor, Fordham University School of Law
Dr. Tashi Rabgey	Lecturer and Director, Contemporary Tibetan Studies Initiative, University of Virginia
Dr. Kay Shimizu	Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Columbia University
Dr. Anthony J. Spires	Assistant Professor, Sociology, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Associate Director, Centre for Civil Society Studies, The CUHK Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies
Dr. Phillip Stalley	Assistant Professor, Political Science, DePaul University
Dr. Jessica Teets	Assistant Professor, Political Science, Middlebury College
Dr. Janet Theiss	Associate Professor, History and Director, Asia Center, University of Utah
Dr. Elanah Uretsky	Assistant Professor, Global Health, Anthropology, and International Affairs, The George Washington University
Dr. Jessica Weiss	Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Yale University