School has defined its mission as:

Giving back the right to quality education to migrant children.

Founders and teachers of the school share the following understanding about education:

Through education we nurture a child's character, by nurturing a child's character we make the world better.

The school follows the guidance of the State Compulsory Education Law. And all teachers possess State Teaching Certificates. In addition to the state curriculum, the school will develop courses to meet the special needs of migrant children. The school will accept 7th and 8th grade students this year. A full range of middle school will be established within two years. This will prepare the children well for continuing their high school education or vocational education.

Dandelion School occupies about 10 Chinese Mu with 21 large classrooms. In order to provide basic study condition that many children do not have at home, school now has the facility to board about 180 students. Standard Physics, Chemistry, Biology and computer labs will be built. A music room, an art studio and a workshop are also under construction.

The tuition for a student per year is 1,360 RMB. If boarding, it is 3,080RMB (Tuition 1,360 per year, Board 40RMB per month for ten months, food 6RMB per day for 220 days.)

The school is under the governance of a board of trustees. Mission driven is the principle of management. The finances of the school are derived mainly from tuition, donations and government funds. The school understands that accountability is its lifeline and will manage its financial assets with great care and make it transparent.
